Growing Washington supports sustainable agricultural practices. We offer to consumers in our community a stamp of approval on the produce we provide them. This means that the farms in our coalition who provide you with food :

- 1) Offer fair wages and good working conditions for their employees
- 2) Create minimal negative impact on the surrounding ecosystems and natural environment, and
- 3) Provide safe and nutritious fruits, vegetables, herbs, and handcrafted foods to every Growing Whatcom CSA member.

We encourage direct relationships between consumers and farmers, and are available to listen to member concerns, questions, or ideas. While we are particularly proud of this community-focused CSA, many of the farms that participate in the Growing Whatcom CSA offer their own CSA programs. The Growing Whatcom CSA is a great way to try all kinds of new food from 15 or more farms. So, if you are introduced to and end up in love with one particular farm's products in your boxes this year, consider buying more from that farm next year. We encourage consumers to support as many farmers as possible through CSA, farmers markets, locally focused restaurants, grocery stores that deal directly with Whatcom producers, and any other local foodstreams.

Thank you for joining our Growing Whatcom Family! We know that you'll enjoy your CSA!
